Whoo News

Boating seems to be in full swing, with many traveling with family instead of friends. We are allowing you to have friends visit you on your boat so long as you practice social distancing and no gathering is at the office area.

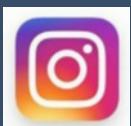

You are welcome to make reservations to secure a picnic area, and again, keeping your group to that area and not at the office location. Strange enough, the deck barbeque that usually gets used quite a bit by tenants and guests has been very occupied by a starling that is now on her second round of eggs. This may keep the BBQ out of commission at the rate she is going. So, you will need to use your boat or reserve a picnic area to do your cooking.

For those of you that don't follow Facebook, we have added a new member to our family - you can meet Samantha on page 3 of this news letter. We are very excited and it certainly adds joy to an unprecedented time in our lives. She is full of life and so far, makes us all pause for a little loving during the day.

We will have the plans for the cruise out on June 19-21 and are excited that even without gathering on the water, we will all be able to get out and anchor celebrating the Summer Solstice.

We hope you are all staying well, positive and keeping your faith in human kind. We are all in this together.

Devery

Feel like you're in a holding pattern?

Nerves are a little on edge, jobs are questionable, and sheltering in place (SIP) has taken a toll. I believe that under "normal" circumstances being in limbo is difficult, but this length of time has truly pushed many of us to the limit. I get it; we are in a pandemic that has proven to be life threatening to many, but I'm just tired of not knowing what to do. I have searched to find out what is the protocol in our area, and it is a lot harder than you think, or at least what I thought. As of this letter, I have found that boating responsibly is available and possible and I've attached a flyer for "Social Distancing Boating". But I think we have all learned a lot from this, and for me, it's taught me to not take the day to day for granted, or the times spent with family and friends, or toilet paper! .

Keep having fun and stay safe,
Devery, Max, Samantha, Twitchell and Captain Jack Sparrow

Events are happening, hope you can join us!

June 19-21

Owl Harbor Cruise Out and Raft Up

We will be heading out on Friday and everyone is welcome from the marina. Sign up with the office so we can email you the itinerary for the weekend events.

July 18

Owl Harbor Fishing Tournament. This is a fun day filled with what else, fishing. There will be a number of categories and prizes for those fisher persons. Sign up with the office now available.

Stay tuned for our Annual Tenant BBQ and Dinghy Poker Run. Currently scheduled for August 15th, but plans may change.

Father's Day gift ideas.....

What to get the man who seems to have everything, here are some great ideas to think about and look into. After all, having a boat, there is always something "boaty" to get him.

From Toadfishoutfitters.com take a look at these:

The Toadfish Can Cooler has a suction cup that allows it to stay upright while being hit or rocked. Simply place The Can Cooler on any smooth surface and it will keep your drink in place (securely up-right). To remove simply lift straight up.

From the beach to the boat, this insulated 32 oz Eco-Canteen will keep your beverage refreshingly ice-cold for up to 24 hrs and drinks hot for up to 12 hrs, allowing you to enjoy every sip. It also includes an easy sip lid which locks once closed so you don't spill a drop.

Owl Harbor Updates

Thought you might like to know the happenings around the marina, changes that affect you and your boat, and general "keeping you informed" information. We believe in keeping on top of things, and this means keeping you in the loop.

1. I know we have mentioned it before, but we don't want to catch you with your pants down, the restrooms and laundry facilities are cleaned Monday and Thursday from 8:00 - 1:00 every week.

2. Smile! You're on camera. Yes, we have video cameras around the marina for your safety and protection. So now I can see when you are also driving fast on the back roads - ugh oh. Busted!!

3. In slip valet pump outs are on Thursday mornings and are $15.00 that may be added to your account. Just call the office anytime prior to Thursday and we will add you to the list. Just be sure you are prepared for our pump out by having the valves in the correct position.

4. The garden is producing and we have already dispatched our first cabbage out to you. They are about 15 lbs each, so we have cut them in half for your use.

5. The June 19-21 Summer Sailstice cruise out is for Owl Harbor Marina tenants. This is an opportunity to get to know some of your fellow boating friends, be in a safe group, and get some great memories. The sign up sheet is in the office and we will email you the details once we have the list of people going.

6. As mentioned on the first page, you are welcome to have guests come and visit you on your boat. We ask that you do not gather at the clubhouse, and be sure your guests are aware of social distancing and proper hand washing and cleaning. We have sanitizer by the office door for everyone to use. Also, you are responsible for your guests, and therefore should be sure they are aware of the policies for marina etiquette as well as the speed limit in the marina.

7. Being out on the water, you should be sure your Vessel Assist is up to date and handy. Even a short tow from the San Joaquin to Owl Harbor costs about $2000 if you are lucky. So, spend the extra money and get your towing in order. It only takes one time to pay for itself.

8. Be sure your boat is up to date with all Coast Guard regulations. Getting boarded and not having things in order can find you in a pinch - or a big fine. Need a checklist, feel free to ask us or go to Boat U.S. Or The Coast Guard websites.

9. Time to sell? We will be happy to walk you through the steps to make the transition go smoothly and be sure that paperwork is in order so you aren't caught off guard.

10. The guest code changes regularly, be sure to call the office to get the current code for your guests

11. Safety is important to us, so please let us know if you see something that needs our attention.

We appreciate your time and suggestions, so please let us know so we can make changes.

Thank you,
Devery
