

MARINA NEWS

As Labor Day approaches, it feels like Delta's hottest days are already behind us, or perhaps they never even happened! The kids are back in school, and the Marina is starting to settle down a bit. Looking back on the summer, it feels like a blur. In just a few months, the Marina has changed hands, brought in amazing new employees, started accepting credit cards, added Saturday morning dog walks, movie nights, and a fantastic summer party. Some things were super popular, and others could use a little tweaking. We've opened the clubhouse for events like the World Cup matches and had our first Owl Talk. We also had kids' game night and open mic night on the deck. We maintained a steady supply of eggs, fruit, vegetables, and coffee. My team has worked so hard and deserves a lot of praise.

As the days get shorter, we're starting to see some of our summer guests leave. Already, Cheshire Cat, EOS, and Strange Magic have returned to the bay, and soon Circe, Marco Time, Artemis, Ehukai, and Sombra Del Mar will soon join them in the chilly fog. Even though those boats only come for a few months each year, their owners, dogs, and camping guests become part of our community and contribute to our vibe. We hope they can come earlier and stay longer in 2027.

COMING UP...

Speaking of new guests, I wanted to let you know that we've rented a booth at the Sausalito Boat Show! It's become the biggest boat show in the bay, and if you're able to make it, please keep an eye out for my team. They'll be so happy to see you! The boat show also happens to be the same time as our winter advertising campaign. Black Dog Yellow Dog marketing has created some print ads for us that you'll see in Latitude 38 and Bay and Delta Yachtsman. The ads are cheeky and minimalist, but I think they really capture what we love. Here's a sneak peek...

MAGAZINE AD

Happy Labor Day!

MAX & B.B.'S CORNER

If you're wondering why I didn't call my fictitious marketing company just Black Dog, well, we've got a new family member! Let me introduce you to Buttermilk Biscuit, or B.B. for short. She's a stray who found us and is very fond of chewing my Pottery Barn rugs and anything else she can get her teeth on. She's sweet, gentle, and lucky to have found us. Which is a sentiment that many of us feel.

- Covered Slips still available with winter rains coming
- Covered Parking is available
- $20 for 20 gallons Mobile pump out Thursdays
- Rent the Club house for family events

Here's to making the most of September!

WARM DAYS. COOL VIBES. OWL HARBOR MARINA.

Owl Harbor MARINA